4 Candle Readers

Chairs are arranged in a circle with four aisles radiating outward.
The advent wreath with the Christ candle lit is in the centre of the circle.

People come into the sanctuary which is dark except for candlelight.
On alternate chairs are placed candles and hymn books.
The candles are short candles glued into the bottom of a plastic cup.

INSTRUMENTAL PRELUDE

WELCOME:

Tonight we celebrate the coming of the Messiah, the Son of God.  Promised to Israel, thrust upon humble parents, and revealed to an unsuspecting world, tonight we journey with Joseph and Mary to witness the birth of this most holy child.

The hymns we will sing tonight are posted on the wall and will follow in that order.  The instrumental group will play one verse and we will join them and sing verse one of each song.  You are seated in sections and during the service you will receive light, one section at a time.  Please do NOT pass your light across the aisle to the next section.  By the end of the serve the light will have reached you all.

Now let us remember the days before the coming of Christ, and imagine the world of trouble and turmoil into which Jesus was born.  A world not unlike the one we still have.  Let us remember the hope given to us in the coming of the light.

CONGREGATIONAL SONG:  HWB 172 - O COME, O COME EMMANUEL

CANDLE READER #1  (Lighting candle from the centre and beginning in the front row, light one section.)
there is a light shining in the darkness
a light which shines through the word,
and the word is light
and the light,
is the
light
of the world

INSTRUMENTAL INTERLUDE - while first section of the church is being lit

READER 1:

Under the covers of a warm and quiet night
there is a heart that beats with quiet thunder that shudders under the load of fear that comes with glimpsing the face of the unknown.

He shivers in the night air as he looks out the window, wondering how he will manage.
Where is the light?

So many worries ...
No money
No security
No steady income,
only the sweat of his brow and the work of his hands.

But he is lucky.
He is not out there in the streets begging for the mercy of strangers
Shivering in chill night air.
But neither is he warm.

How will they manage?
the two of them,
soon to be three ...
so young,
so scared,
so full of “what will happen if ...”
Will there be light at the end of this tunnel of uncertainty?

CONGREGATIONAL SONG:   HWB 182 - OH HOW SHALL I RECEIVE THEE?

CANDLE READER #2:  (Lighting candle from the centre, beginning in the front row, light the second section)

there is a light shining in the darkness
a light which shines through the word,
and the word is light
and the light,
is the
light
of the world

INSTRUMENTAL INTERLUDE - while 2nd section of the church is being lit
READER 2:

They have a family nearby
who try to understand and refrain from judging.
but there are questions...
unasked.
murmers behind his back, Hands covering
mouths whispering.

READER 1:

Then he thinks of her.
The wonder in her eyes.
The anticipation of great things to come.
Her calmness...
Sure that God is with her.

Eyes follow her down the street. He’s seen them watch and wonder at her.
She grows daily more beautiful and more full of the wonder of life.
Can there be light for her that he can’t see?

CONGREGATIONAL SONG: HWB 178 - COME, THOU LONG EXPECTED JESUS

READER 3:

But there was an angel!
Imagine, an angel!

She said there was one.
The angel’s name was Gabriel.
How could she mistake an angel
for anyone else?

It was no one they knew,
not dressed up
not from far away
but rather “otherly”
from another place entirely ... from heaven
where there is no fear of what tomorrow will bring.
Where no one asks whether there will be comfort and safety

CONGREGATIONAL SONG: HWB 180 - THE ANGEL GABRIEL

READER 4:

And she rested in the words of the angel.
In the darkness of her room,
the light flickered within her.

Soon they would travel. Weariness would well up in them. And the man and woman would try to remember the words given to them by the angel.
So, the man and the woman packed up their food and their belongings and headed toward the town of crowds and camels, of pushing and noise, of travelers looking for shelter. There they would find lodging.

READER 3:

For the angel had promised her a great joy.
A child of wonder and wisdom.
A child of grace.
A child.

The name of the child would be the awaited one
the comforter
the prince of peace.
the promise of God

CONGREGATIONAL SONG: HWB 176 – COMFORT, COMFORT, O MY PEOPLE

READER 2:

And as the man and the woman stumbled wearily into the dark town there were no smiles of reassurance with hot food to warm them or beds ready with clean linens smelling of sun and wind.

But after the final step was taken...
the time arrived.
waiting not for beds, or linens,

READER 3:

A miracle...
an every day miracle! ...
that was made miraculous
by the touch of God.

READER 1:

the man stared at the wonder before him.
what strange and holy waves were they,
that cast this child on the shores of their lives?
to be part of such a moment...
surely it was never before like this for anyone.

READER 4:

An everyday miracle
but more.

the woman nestled the babe to her breast,
as if there were nothing in all the world
but the child...

CANDLE READER #1:  no chickens underfoot
CANDLE READER #2:  no musty straw to sneeze away
CANDLE READER #3:  no drafty darkness
CANDLE READER #1:  just warmth, fourth/last section)

there is a light shining in the darkness
a light which shines through the word,
and the word is light
and the light,
is the
light
of the world

INSTRUMENTAL INTERLUDE - while 4th/last section of the church is being lit
There they lay,
Whole and complete.

the man wondered at the gentle sounds and soft breathing
when suddenly a joy ... so deep it wound around his heart, wafted out the cracks in the walls,
soared high into the night,
and cracked the darkness.

CONGREGATIONAL SONG:  HWB 203 - BREAK FORTH, O BEAUTEOUS, HEAVENLY LIGHT

The night was changed.
no longer a waiting, shapeless presence;
but a time of holiness and awe.

Even those in the fields
were shaken by the shattered darkness.
A rent in the sky appeared and angels gushed out over the night-shrouded hills.

CONGREGATIONAL SONG:  HWB 197 - ANGELS WE HAVE HEARD ON HIGH

The Darkness could not hold the light.
Light poured out over the men
and sheep;
and rolled over the town
pushing before it those who had no love for the town,
its crowds and its noise,
and pulling in its wake, wanderers from the world’s edge.

All to see the babe.
the Word become flesh.
the light of the world.

CANDLE READER #1:    bringing hope CANDLE READER #2:    bringing peace
CANDLE READER #3:    bringing love
CANDLE READER #4:    bringing joy.

CONGREGATIONAL SONG:  HWB 318     JOY TO THE WORLD
And the man leaned against the dark of the stable wall,
his head resting on the rough surface,
hands limp with relief.

The men had gone,
leaving behind gifts, and memories of faces touched by holy light.
Whisps of excitement still hung in the air and joy wrapped in garlands around the sleeping pair.

He watched them sleep.
breathing low
and soft wrapped together in straw and silence.
the light of God shining in and around them.

CANDLE READER #1:
there is a light shining in the darkness

CANDLE READER #2:
a light which shines through the word,

CANDLE READER #3:
